Dear potential applicant,

Thank you for your interest and taking the time to read through all the information. On more of a personal note, I would like to expand on what I believe to be a wonderful and unique job prospect based in idyllic locations. Despite Leck and Hornby schools being very different in nature, they work well together; therefore, leaders and staff are pleased to become the 'Lune Valley Federation' (one governing board) ready for our new head teacher.

When I became the Chair of governors, I was warmly welcomed and generously supported by the staff in my new role and have subsequently built an excellent rapport with the team. The staff get on well with each other, look out for each other, all chip in and go that extra mile. This has created a warm, friendly, supportive atmosphere and the children pick up on this. As a result, the children are happy and respect their teachers which helps underpin the positive culture that permeates throughout.

The schools pivot around Christian beliefs, as a result, the staff wholeheartedly believe that each child is different and that everybody is good at something. The team strives to be creative with the curriculum, to cater for all children, for example, offering outdoor activities, forest school to team sporting events in conjunction with other local schools. The children trust and encourage each other, which helps them feel confident in trying that bit harder or to take on the next new challenge.

Although, saying farewell to our long standing headteacher will be difficult, the staff are feeling positive and looking forward to embracing new leadership. The staff are very passionate about their schools and therefore willing to learn and build on their strengths. Staff retention is exceptionally good and pupil to teacher ratios tend to be lower than average.

Leck and Hornby work alongside other small schools within the valley (Lune Valley Cluster Schools). This provides great opportunities for the children, staff and senior leaders. Having local headteachers in the area that know each other provides a supportive network and this was invaluable during the covid pandemic.

I feel I could go on, but if you would like to know more or wish to visit the schools and churches we encourage and warmly welcome you to informally meet us. We will gladly show you around and answer any questions you may have; please ask to speak with Mr Kerry Stafford Roberts (HT) to arrange this, telephone numbers are on the websites. Looking forward to hearing from you.

Janine Mair, Chair of Governors Leck St Peter's school
